

When Big Corporations Act Like an Enron or Tyco,
It's Time to Stand Up for Working Families.

We're Drawing the Line at Kroger!

Kroger has raked in billions of dollars in profits from its customers - and our hard work - over the past several years, but it won't continue to provide decent health care benefits that employees have earned and our families need.

We're Standing Up for Our Families – and Yours.

We have been forced out on strike because Kroger wants to swell its bottom line at the expense of employees and our families. We're standing up for the respect and fairness all working families deserve.

We're Standing Up for Our Entire Community.

If Kroger succeeds in taking advantage of its employees, then other employers - maybe yours - will think they can do the same. We're drawing the line in support of all working families in our community. It's time to say "No" to corporate greed, whether it's Enron or Tyco or Kroger.

Support Our Campaign for Respect.
